JAYCEES PLAN TRAINING IN GIVING TALKS

Plans to hold a "Speak Up Jaycee" training program in public speaking for a half hour before each regular meeting were outlined Thursday evening at a meeting of the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Jaycee rooms in the Western Maryland Railway depot, Carlisle St.

President Thomas Metz said Horst Lochmeyer, a member of the Jaycees who recently moved here from his native Germany, had been appointed, at his own request, as chairman for the program to be based upon a manual on public speaking published by the national Junior Chamber.

Ross Crouse, chairman of the Antique Show committee, reported two dealers have already arranged for space at the show to be held in August.

Misses Luncheon Here

Plans were outlined for Buddy Deane dances to be held the last Saturdays in June, August and October.

Crouse, who is regional vice president of the Jaycees, presented the organization with a plaque certifying that each member of the local Jaycees is also a member of the Junior Chamber International. The plaque was originally scheduled to be presented at a luncheon meeting held at the Hotel Gettysburg Thursday afternoon to honor the international president of the Jaycees, Maurice Sexton of New Zealand.

Donald Becker reported at Thursday night's meeting that the luncheon was held, but an auto accident near Lewistown prevented appearance of Mr. Sexton here. He was enroute there when a tire blew out, the car skidded on icy highways and crashed into a ditch breaking an axle. While no one was injured, by the time the party had secured assistance and made arrangements for another car, it was too late for the international president to come here and he was routed to Valley Forge for a similar program Thursday night.

Plans were announced for "The Roll the Barrel" visitation this evening to the Newville Jaycees under chairmanship of Richard Guise. The members of the local Jaycees will present a program at Newville and present to it a barrel which in turn will be presented by Newville to another Jaycee club.

Nomination of officers was conducted, with the following nominated: President, Ross Crouse; internal vice president, Harry Spangler; external vice president, Robert Hixon; secretary, Donald Chamberlain; treasurer, Robert Weiland, and directors (five to be elected), Donald Becker, Carroll Smith, George Lambert, Magnus Flaws, Horst Lockmeyer, Richard Guise, Richard Clark, Donald Smith.

President Asks Congress $3.9 Billion Foreign Aid

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today for $3,900,000,000 in foreign aid. He said the spending is essential to survival in the face of a "growing Communist potential to launch a war of nuclear destruction."

In a special message Eisenhower cautioned against reckless cuts, lest the United States become "the richest nation in the graveyard of history."

The President said the full amount is urgently needed to thwart "a fanatic conspiracy of international communism" which maintains 6½ million men under arms in about 40 divisions around the world.

Danger In Berlin

Singling out the Soviet drive to force the West out of Berlin, Eisenhower said: "In Europe today the Soviet Union has made demands regarding the future of Berlin which, if unmodified, could have perilous consequences."

"The resoluteness with which we and our allies will meet this issue has come about in large measure because our past programs of economic and military assistance to our NATO allies have aided them," he said, "to stand firm in the face of threats."

Speaking of the worldwide Red threat against free nations, Eisenhower told the legislators: "Two fundamental purposes of our collective defense effort are to prevent general war and to deter Communist local aggression."

Threat Of Aggression

"We know the enormous and growing Communist potential to launch a war of nuclear destruction."

Hawaiian Statehood Bill Goes To Ike; OK Certain

By HARRISON HUMPHRIES

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Hawaiian Islands will become the nation's 50th state within the year. Congress answered the territory's half-century of pleading for statehood Thursday with a resounding 323-69 vote in the House. The Senate assented a day earlier with a 76-15 vote.

President Eisenhower gets the bill today. His approval is certain. Presidential secretary James C. Hagerty said the President is delighted.

Within Six Months

In four to six months Hawaii could be a full partner in the union. It will take that long to set up elections for the nearly 600,000 people to choose their first state officers, their two U.S. senators and one representative in the House. Hawaii will qualify for a second House seat after the 1960 census.

There is a maximum time schedule set out in the state constitution which the people of Hawaii, tired of waiting, adopted in 1950. The maximum is 160 days between the date the President signs the bill and the date of the general election. The actual time could be less.

Gov. William F. Quinn, 12th and last presidentially appointed governor of Hawaii, said he is inclined to favor a schedule on the slow side. He said he thought that would be preferred by political leaders of both parties to get good candidates in the field. Quinn is a Republican and a candidate for governor. It is up to him to set the election dates.

John A. Burns, Hawaii's Democratic delegate to Congress, said he favored the shortest possible preliminaries to the ultimate proclamation of the President formally admitting the islands to statehood.

"Hawaiians are tired of living under the shackles of the appointive governor system," he said. Burns, undoubtedly a candidate for something, has not said which office he will seek.

BUILDERS' SHOW HERE POSTPONED

The Gettysburg Exchange Club's Builders' Show, scheduled for next weekend has been postponed. Crosby N. Hartzell of the committee in charge said today.

Postponement was decided upon to permit use of the Hotel Gettysburg press room for the newspaper reporters, photographers, radio and television and magazine reporters and staff expected here next week to cover the meeting between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister McMillan at Camp David on the Berlin question.

Hartzell said James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary who with the British Embassy will be in charge of accrediting correspondents who will be here, had been contacted in relation to the use of the press room and had offered to move the correspondents elsewhere. Hartzell said the Exchange Club, because of the facilities for world-wide coverage available to the correspondents at the press room and the historic significance of the meeting, insisted upon stepping aside to permit use of the room by the reporters.

He added that the postponed show will be held in April "either the first or second week. We have not as yet been able to decide."

The first donations to the "Painting Fund" to purchase a life-size painting of President Eisenhower to be presented to the Eisenhower Elementary School here were received today.

Checks of $25 each were received from C. W. Epley, proprietor of Epley's garage, Chambersburg St., and John J. Reimer, president of the Keystone Ridgeway Corporation, 4th and Water Sts.

"I am very happy to contribute $25 toward the purchase of a life-size painting of President Eisenhower to be presented to the Eisenhower Elementary School," Mr. Epley said.

"This is indeed a worthwhile project and I am sure it will be well supported by the many friends the President has in the community of his adoption. Good luck."

Mr. Reimer wrote: "We are happy to be a small part of this project and believe it will have the support of the entire community."

Donations in any amount will be accepted. Names of donors will be inscribed in a book to be kept in the school vault.

School children in the area will participate in the campaign for funds. Each room will be given recognition as a unit with each pupil's name inscribed in the book.

Checks are to be made payable to "Painting Fund" and mailed to The Gettysburg Times.

HANOVERIANS FACE COURT FOR ASSAULT

Three Hanover men will appear for court action in May on charges of assault and battery upon four Littlestown youths February 13, according to a return made by Justice of the Peace R. Loy Lindaman, Littlestown, to the county clerk of courts.

The assault and battery charges state that the three men, Robert L. Topper, 18; William E. Imler, 22, and James C. Imler, 19, were assisted by three juveniles in beating the Littlestown youths, James A. Riley, Raymond C. Hilker, Larry R. Kline and Karl R. Bankert, at 10:45 p.m. Friday, February 13, near Boydie's Restaurant on E. King St., in Littlestown.

Each of the men was held for court on $500 bail. The return made by the justice did not indicate that the three denied committing the assault, nor does it list them as pleading to the charge.

Riley was struck in the mouth and nine teeth were broken, and also suffered other "grievous injury," according to the transcript. Kline was hit in the face and elsewhere. The others reported being hit in the face, neck and elsewhere. Some required medical treatment.

According to the transcript, Topper testified he "struck Kline only once." James Imler admitted being "in a fight with Karl Bankert." William Imler was quoted as saying he "may have kicked one of the prosecutors in the face."

The parties in the dispute over operation of the four-unit motel at the former "Willows" along the Harrisburg Rd. "may reach an agreement which will adjust their immediate problems," it was announced Thursday following a hearing in Adams County court chambers on the petition for an injunction brought by Hans G. and Carolyn M. Enggren against Allan B. and Hazel H. Kyner, all of Gettysburg R. 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Enggren had rented the four-unit motel from Mr. and Mrs. Kyner when the latter couple purchased "The Willows." The Kyners have since brought an action in ejectment against the Enggrens. The Enggrens then brought the injunction action claiming the Kyners were preventing them from operating the motel, asking that they be restrained from such activity until the ejectment action is decided.

Following Thursday's hearing on the injunction proceedings the court handed down the following order:

"After hearing the testimony in the above matter and it appearing that the parties may reach an agreement which will adjust their immediate problems, it is ordered and decreed that the above matter be continued generally, this court retaining jurisdiction of the petition and answer."

Home From Hawaii; Misses Celebration

Mrs. Amos D. Meyers, York Springs, is delighted about her native Hawaii's admission to the union as the 50th state but she is "awfully sorry" she cannot be in Hawaii for the celebration of the long-awaited statehood.

Mrs. Meyers returned home Thursday from nine weeks in Hawaii. "The statehood question seemed to be almost the only topic of conversation in Hawaii while I was there and to think I missed being there when it finally came," Mrs. Meyers said. Congress acted more swiftly than many Hawaiians had expected or she might have been able to arrange to stay another week.

She returned by air to Los Angeles and then flew to Washington when weather closed in the Harrisburg airport. She was met in Washington by her husband and came home by auto. She was accompanied by her five-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Meyers was called to Hawaii by the critical illness of her mother who later died. It was Mrs. Meyers' third trip since coming to the states 19 years ago.

Gettysburg borough workmen under LeRoy H. Winebrenner, borough engineer, resumed snow removal work this morning after working from 5:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Thursday on clearing the heavy snow from the main streets of the town.

Mr. Winebrenner said that four cars that ignored notices on meters in the snow removal zones were towed away Thursday and a dozen others were moved. The wet, heavy snow caused several breakdowns by the snow loader but Lincoln Square, the business section, fire plugs and crossings were cleared.

News From Nearby Counties

YORK COUNTY

A story of harsh mistreatment and beatings allegedly suffered by a slight 36-year-old woman while confined in a York dwelling during the last three weeks was unfolded Thursday by city detectives who, accompanied by City Nurse Dorothy Miller, moved in on the house Wednesday afternoon following reports of a woman's screams, and pleas of "don't do it again, I can't stand it," and conversation by occupants of the house concerning "too much blood."

In the house the detectives said they found Mrs. Lillian R. Eckenrode, whose body was covered with bruises and other injuries. The officers filed charges of assault with intent to kill and aggravated assault and battery against the woman's husband, Clarence G. Eckenrode, 34; Robert W. Fink, 33, and his wife, Mrs. Sue Fink.

Eckenrode and Fink were committed to the county jail and detectives said they plan to take Mrs. Fink into custody after arrangements are made for the care of her five children.

Detectives said the Eckenrodes moved into the Fink house after living next door for some time. According to statements taken from the woman and the two men, they said the Eckenrode woman must have been beaten nearly every day for about three weeks because "she didn't do the work around the house fast enough."

FRANKLIN COUNTY

The McCrory Co. has executed a short-term lease for continued occupancy of the downtown Chambersburg location where it has operated a five- and ten-cent store for a number of years.

McCrory is one of a group of business houses which have signed leases for a proposed shopping center at Guilford Hills and had earlier indicated it would not renew the lease on its Chambersburg store beyond June 1. Under the extension McCrory store will maintain its present location until work on the shopping center is undertaken or completed.

Hospital Patient 4th Time Since Oct.

A 17-year-old South Mountain woman, the mother of a 10-week-old child, is a patient at the Chambersburg Hospital today — the fourth time since last October.

Mrs. Dale Huff was taken to the hospital Wednesday for treatment of a leg injury, a back injury and multiple abrasions suffered when she fell from the second floor to the first floor of her home. Hospital attendants listed her condition as fair.

Mrs. Huff, the former Mary Belle Heintzelman of the Orrtan section, had gone to the second floor of her story-and-a-half home yesterday noon to secure a toy for her brother. Members of the family explained that the second floor of the home has not been finished and Mrs. Huff apparently lost her footing on the 2x4 joists and fell through the first floor ceiling into the hallway.

Mrs. Huff made her first trip to the hospital last October for an appendicitis operation. In January she returned for the birth of her first child and shortly afterward underwent surgery for removal of kidney stones.

Star actor of stage and screen, Thomas Mitchell, was first a newspaper reporter.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Honor Roll Is Presented To Court Today: A plaque honoring the six Adams county attorneys now in the armed forces was presented to the Adams county court by the county Bar Association at a regular session of court this morning.

John P. Butt, Esq. chairman of the bar association's committee in charge of the honor roll, made the presentation in the form of a motion that the names be placed in the court room. Judge W. C. Sheely, accepting the motion, placed the walnut and gold plaque on the wall behind the judge's bench between the American and state flags. The plaque hangs in the center of the painted alcove on the west wall of the court room.

The six county lawyers include Donald McCurdy Swope, Edgar K. Markley, Daniel E. Teeter, Edward B. Bulleit, Charles W. Wolf and John B. Keith. The latter, while not yet admitted to the county bar, has been admitted to the state Supreme court and is a resident of Gettysburg.

Msgr. Codori To Be Honored: The Rt. Rev. Msgr. John N. Codori, LL.D. pastor of St. John Gualbert's Church, Johnstown; vicar general of Altoona and a native of Gettysburg, will be honored this evening at a testimonial dinner celebrating the golden jubilee of his ordination. The son of the late Simon J. and Matilda Louise (Norbeck) Codori, he was born February 13, 1867, in the Codori House on the battlefield here. His mother died last year in Emmitsburg at the age of 99.

Pvt. Weishaar "Back At Post": War Dept. Says: Pvt. Eugene J. Weishaar, Bonneville, who was reported dead in the North Africa area, was reported by the War Department today to be alive and well and to have rejoined his company on active duty after recovering from a fractured skull suffered in an accident in the African area.

Praise Guard Unit On First Anniversary: "All of Adams County is proud of your organization and hopes it continues after the war," Judge W. C. Sheely told the Adams County Minutemen Thursday evening at a program in the armory celebrating the first anniversary of the organization of the "county militia."

The best proof of the county's feeling toward the company of Minutemen was the fact that "the fund raised to obtain flags and equipment for you was raised easier than any other fund in the county. You have done something for the county and you have done something for yourselves in establishing this organization."

Biglerville Cagers Given Banquet On Wednesday: Biglerville high schools basketball squads were guests of honor at a banquet held Wednesday evening in the high school building.

TO PIONEER

The pioneer is a notable example, no matter what that pioneering may be. The early pioneers to this western world were men and women of great courage, great vision, and great faith. They climbed mountains, they explored the unexplored. They went on and on, leaving the earth bloody with their tracks.

To pioneer is to dream, to dig into the earth, and to search for truths and anxieties in the souls of people. Monuments have been erected in Indiana, the great Northwest, and Mexico to the Pioneer Mother. To the pioneers we owe a debt that we shall never be able to pay. Conrad Richter has put into many books the stories of the pioneers of America, notably in "The Sea of Grass," "The Free Man," "Early Americana," and many others. Any one of his books is notable, and among the finest written by an American. He pays silent tribute to the pioneers.

Today we have pioneers in research work, hoping to solve many a problem in the discovery of ways and means to solve the mysteries that keep scientists from discovering the cure to many a disease. Great progress, however, has been made. A knowledge of nutrition has made discoveries notable in the field of food. People live longer, and more happily, because of this.

To pioneer is what has built this, and many another, country into a more intelligent way of life. To pioneer is to forget self and think of others. Pioneers are the benefactors of all mankind. They nourish our souls with rare courage, faith and hope.

SUDDEN JUMP TO FAME

A little fish swam in the brook And nibbled at a worm-gloved hook;

He felt the barb, and then began A tussle 'twixt the fish and man. A jerk—the fish escaped the hook And tumbled back into the brook.

Unto his fellow fish he flew, "I'm bigger, now," he said, "than you.

A man with whom I fought two rounds

Said that I weighed at least four pounds;

And with his arms he showed my size;

I tell you, fellows, I'm a prize."

LENTEN GUIDEPOSTS

THE HIGH COST OF HATE
By Dr. Everett R. Clinchy
President, National Conference Of Christians And Jews

In 1920 I was a minister in a small, friendly country parish in New Jersey. One of the trustees was a farmer of steel-like integrity, whom I deeply admired and respected.

One night a cross was burned by the Ku Klux Klan in a valley below our hill. The spirit of the entire community stiffened with hate, distrust, vicious rumors of lawless night raiders, all adding up to the same intent: "The Roman Catholics moving into the valley are going to be frightened out."

I was 23 then, and confident that America could be made safe for differences. I remember asking our church congregation if we meant the things we fought for in the great war just ended; more important, if we meant the compassion, understanding, and love our faith taught us.

A Blind Spot
Shortly thereafter, it was a profound shock when the trustee, whom I admired and respected, so much, said:

"The men met last night in the valley. The Protestant Churches had better remain quiet. The Klan is gaining strength."

I was painfully puzzled that a man with such moral depth could have this blind spot of intolerance. Our friendship continued and endured, but I could sense the hate in him.

Hate is not a natural and continuous state in men, particularly men who believe. My friend came to know the others, the Catholics. He discovered that hate was the ugly child of his own suspicions, the ignorance that comes from lack of knowledge. The "others," though different in faith, were as he. The truth burned a way to his heart and changed his mind.

Klan Lost Out
Before I left New Jersey, the Klan had spent its brief fury. The adolescent marching in sheets and hoods became as ridiculous as Halloween's garments.

Some courageous souls spoke out. Churches other than ours also turned against the carriers of malice. Farmers and merchants quickly found out that hate is bad for business. Politicians discovered that it is a poisonous boomerang. As the goodness in more people asserted itself, the evil of the Klan died.

But the experience left its mark on me. It was then, as I look back now, that the great problem of building brotherhood chose me. Directly after the New Jersey episode, the Federal Council of Protestant Churches met in Atlanta, Georgia (ironically, then headquarters of the Klan), and formed a Committee of Good Will between Christians and Jews to study "How Does a Klansman Get That Way?" Five prominent consultants of the Committee: Charles Evans Hughes, Newton D. Baker, S. Parkes Cadman, Carlton J. H. Hayes and Roger W. Straus, formed the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and started me by asking me to run it.

At our very first seminar I remember plastering the walls from floor to ceiling with hate posters clerks, accountants, students, electricians, lawyers or farmers — which in fact they once were. But the four-year war they fought in EOKA, the Greek Cypriot underground, to free Cyprus from Britain was tough and ruthless. A total of 393 killings were attributed to EOKA. More than half the victims were Greek Cypriot civilians marked as traitors to the cause of Enosis, the union of Cyprus with Greece.

EOKA did not win Enosis. But on the advice of its leadership I accepted the plan for eventual independence for Cyprus.

Over 600 Lives
The hatreds born in the struggle washed over into intercommunal fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots that took another 115 lives. All in all, including those killed by British security forces, the war left 601 dead and 1,260 wounded.

On the face of it, EOKA was battling hopeless odds. Its own hard core centered in the mountains probably never numbered more than 50 men, although the line of communication and part-time adherents ran into thousands. Against them, Britain threw in as many as 30,000 of its best troops.

How did EOKA do it? The answer is Col. George Grivas, a Cyprus-born retired Greek army officer with the pseudonym of Digenis, who formed the underground, led it and has now disbanded it.

Ruthless And Fearless
"Looking back on it," a British intelligence official mused after Grivas called off the battle early this week, "he was ruthless, absolutely fearless, and a good organizer to the nth degree. In fact, he was the sort of chap you would want on your side if you had to do the same thing."

Grivas was 56 when he landed from Rhodes on the west coast of Cyprus the night of Nov. 9, 1954. Retired from the army in 1944, he had led a fanatically right-wing band in Greece after the war and gotten a name for hardness and efficiency.

He was called to Cyprus to organize a militant force to support Archbishop Makarios of the Greek Orthodox Church in his campaign for Enosis.

Band Of Tough Men
He immediately began to search for potential leaders in the Cyprus youth movement, discarding as he went along those with inadequate hardness or zeal. By the time his campaign opened, on April 1, 1955, he had around him a band of tough young men forming EOKA's inner core, and a second echelon of couriers, paymasters, quartermasters, recruiters and informants.

In the years that followed, EOKA had successes and some near disasters. By mid-1956, British intelligence was beginning to break through.

Deadly Discipline
In March 1957, when EOKA appeared to be near defeat, with many of its top men dead or captured, Britain accepted a truce. But essentially, EOKA survived because it won almost complete support from the island's 400,000 Greek Cypriots, and because of its excellent organization and deadly discipline.

"We are all EOKA," the Greek Cypriot mayor of Nicosia once proclaimed.

On hundreds of occasions British troops would rush within minutes to the scene of a killing, only to find that the killers had vanished, furnished with escape routes by the populace. In the mountains peasants fed EOKA men and hid them.

Capt. Robert Horner, Of Camp Hill, Dies In Crash

LEBANON, Pa. (AP) — A 30-year-old Civil Air Patrol officer was killed Thursday night when his privately-owned twin-engine plane crashed on a farm about 10 miles northwest of here between Annville and Indiantown Gap.

The pilot and lone occupant of the ill-fated craft was identified by state police as Capt. Robert Horner, of Camp Hill, a Harrisburg suburb.

Sgt. C. E. Hartman, of the state police, said the craft, en route from Harrisburg to Allentown, crashed on the farm of Elmer Summy during a windy snow flurry about 8 p.m. Thursday.

Summy told police he heard a loud noise but failed to inspect any closer due to the snow and wind. He said he discovered the wreckage, about two blocks from his residence, at 8 a.m. today.

Police at the scene said the plane was demolished when it smashed into the level ground surrounding the Summy farmhouse. However, they reported the craft had not caught fire.

Police were unable to determine the cause of the crash.

Lt. Doris Tobin, personnel officer for the Pennsylvania Wing of the Civil Air Patrol, said Horner was legal officer for the unit. He was unmarried and a practicing attorney in Harrisburg.

She said the plane was owned by Horner who was believed en route to Allentown for a CAP meeting when the crash occurred.

Police and volunteers earlier conducted a search of the Hamburg area in Berks County where a plane crash had been reported sighted. That search was given up when the Horner plane was found.

Bullets Seek Replacements For 13 Lettermen During Spring Football Practice

One of the largest turnouts in years greeted Head Coach Gene Haas and his coaching staff as 56 football candidates started initial spring drills at Gettysburg College Monday. Haas is faced with replacing 13 graduating lettermen eight of whom are linemen.

Lettermen who will be on hand to form the supporting cast in Gettysburg's 1959 football plans are backs Ed Books, Boiling Springs; Dick Davidyock, Summit Hill; and Ernie Velten, Baltimore, Md. Books alternated with the starting quarterback last year, while Davidyock and Velten were starters.

In the line the Bullets are counting on lettermen Ron Frederick, an end from Souderton; tackles, Clem Valco, Raritan, N. J., and Jim Hess, Curwensville, and guard, Frank Temme, Philadelphia, to form a nucleus.

Other holdovers who will be fighting for starting positions are Tom Hyland, Lancaster; Redding Hickes, Doylestown; Ron Tukloff, West Chester; Ed Lucas, Eddystone, and Buddy Goodman, Wilmington, Del. With the exception of Hyland, a quarterback, all are halfbacks.

Line Veterans

Line veterans who are returning are: Ends, Harvard Hicks, Doylestown, and Lance Butler, Mullica Hill, N. J.; tackles, Mike Pacilio, Merrick, N. Y., and Fred Mink, Hershey; guards, "Chuck" Patti, Phillipsburg, N. J.; Gordon Kissner, Silver Spring, Md.; "Skip" Yohe, Havertown, and Keith Quigley, Lemoine, and centers, Joe Bailey, Oreland; Bill Davies, Medford Lakes, N. J., and Louis Caban, New York City.

Two veterans working out with the squad but who are still doubtful due to serious injuries sustain last year are "Chet" Knight, Chestertown, Md., and Gino Calagni, Bethlehem. Knight is the rugged 6-2, 205-pound end who won honorable mention All-State honors two years ago as a sophomore and Calagni is a burly 255-pound tackle who garnered the same honor, also in 1957. Their presence in the lineup could be a big boost to the relatively green squad.

MANY RECORDS ARE BROKEN IN NBA CAGE LOOP

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Pettit is the National Basketball Assn. scoring champion this season—and an author of sorts, to boot. He almost singlehandedly rewrote the NBA record book, final statistics revealed today.

The St. Louis Hawks star set six major records, breaking only one of his own. In addition, Bill Sharman, Bob Cousy and Bill Russell of Boston, and Kenny Sears of New York, also set new records.

Pettit scored the most points (2,105); had the highest per game average (29.2); most field goals scored (719); most free throws attempted (879); most free throws made (667); and most 50-point games in a season (3).

Syracuse's George Yardley saw three of his records, set with Detroit, go by the boards—all to Pettit. Yardley had the old season high of 2,001 points which Pettit broke two weeks ago; the most free throws attempted (808); and made (655); while Pettit broke George Mikan's 28.4 season average, set in 1950-51.

Pettit's teammate, Clyde Lovellette, lost his mark of 679 field goals for a season, set with Cincinnati in 1957-58. Previously, Pettit and Mikan shared the 50-point games with two each.

Sears field goal percentage of .490 broke Larry Foust's mark of .487 while Sharman upped his foul shooting percentage mark to .929 from .905. Russell grabbed 1,612 rebounds to better his mark of 1,564 and had the highest average (23.0) to break his 22.7 mark.

Bob Davis Named "Coach Of Year"

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics today named Bob Davis, coach of the Georgetown (Ky.) College basketball team, as coach of the year.

The award was given to Davis at the annual NAIA Hall of Fame luncheon here.

Davis' Georgetown team was upset in the Kentucky playoffs and did not reach the 21st annual NAIA tournament being played here this week. But Georgetown was the only team this season to defeat Tennessee A&I State, bidding for its third consecutive NAIA title.

NEW CAGE FIVE IS DARK HORSE

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Unheralded Fort Hays State of Kansas pulled the upset of the tournament Thursday night and became the darkhorse contender of the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament.

The fast-breaking Kansas, seeded 15th, surprised second-ranked West Virginia Wesleyan 96-83.

Tonight's semifinals pairs Southwest Texas State against defending champion Tennessee A&I State, and Fort Hays against Pacific Lutheran, 97-65 winner Thursday night over Georgia Teachers.

Tennessee A&I, shooting for a record third straight title, still is the team to beat. The Tigers from Nashville clobbered eighth-seeded Illinois State Normal 131-74, setting two tournament records. Their winning score was 10 points better than the previous standard, set last year by Southwest Texas, and they outdid a 12-year-old mark by scoring 55 field goals in a single game. The record was 51.

It also was A&I's 13th successive victory in tournament play over three years, which tied another record.

Southwest Texas slipped into the semifinals 80 - 78 over Lenoir Rhyne.

Roberts Develops Special Offense

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — "The count is 3-2. The bases are loaded. The score is tied in the ninth inning and the pennant is at stake. What are you going to throw?"

Willie Jones smiled as he said it. He had agreed to catch a few pitches for Robin Roberts Thursday, although the Philadelphia Phillies were given the day off when the exhibition game with Milwaukee was called because of wet grounds.

Roberts delivered a side-arm curve over the outside corner. "Where did you get that one?" asked the surprised Jones. There was a look of amazement on his face at the resourcefulness of the famed fastball pitcher who more than holds his own although the zip in his pitches is gone.

"Oh," smiled Roberts, "I'm getting a little older (32) and a little smarter. But I only plan to use that pitch on special occasions."

U. S., Czechs Hockey Teams Need Win

PRAGUE (AP) — The United States and Czechoslovakia, both needing a victory to stay in the running for the world amateur hockey championship, face each other today, after Finland and Sweden open the proceedings.

The United States and the Czechs both have 2-1 records. Canada which knocked off Sweden 5-0 Thursday, leads with 3-0. Russia, after beating the Czechs in Thursday's other game 4-3, also has a 2-1 mark.

The Canadians are idle today, but play the United States and the Czechs in the next two days.

KENTUCKY FIVE GUNNING FOR FIFTH CROWN

By ORLO ROBERTSON Associated Press Sports Writer Kentucky's Wildcats, seeking an unprecedented fifth championship, open defense of their NCAA basketball title tonight as 16 of the nation's best major college teams begin play in four regional tournaments.

Although Kentucky got into this year's tournament because champion Mississippi State declined to represent the Southeastern Conference, there are those who say Adolph Rupp's crew is capable of going all the way. Mississippi refused to enter because its all white team would have to play against Negroes.

Kentucky is not a great team by comparison with some of Rupp's outfits. But it lost only two of its 25 games and was ranked second to Kansas State in the final Associated Press poll. The team is led by All-America Johnny Cox, only starter from last year's champions.

Kentucky plays Louisville, an at-large selection with a 17-10 record, in the first game of tonight's doubleheader at Evanston, Ill. Michigan State (18-3), champion of the Big Ten, meets Marquette (23-4) in the second.

Kentucky and Michigan State are favored to tangle Saturday night in the Mid-east regional.

Here's how the other three regional tournaments stack up:

East at Charlotte, N.C. — West Virginia (26-4) vs. St. Joseph's of Philadelphia (22-3) and Navy (17-5) vs. Boston University (19-6).

West Virginia, having overcome its jinx of losing in the preliminary round four straight years, and Navy, which eliminated well-regarded North Carolina, are favored.

Midwest at Lawrence, Kan. — Texas Christian (19-5) vs. Cincinnati (23-3) and De Paul (13-9) vs. Kansas State (24-1).

Far West at San Francisco Defensive-minded teams take over on the West Coast with Idaho State (20-6) meeting St. Mary's of California (18-5) and California (21-4) taking on Utah (21-5).

The National Invitation Tournament opened in New York's Madison Square Garden Thursday night. Butler continued its rapid end-of-the-season pace, downing Fordham 94-80. St. John's of New York eliminated Villanova 75-67.

There will be no action in the NIT tonight. The first round will be completed Saturday afternoon with the Providence-Manhattan and Denver-New York University doubleheader. Top-seeded Bradley takes on Butler and St. John's meets St. Bonaventure Saturday night. St. Louis and Oklahoma City see action next Tuesday.

At Evansville, Ind., Southwest Missouri State and Evansville won the right to meet in the finals of the NCAA small college division tournament tonight. Southwest Missouri State defeated Los Angeles State 72-59 and Evansville downed North Carolina A&T 110-92 in Thursday night's semifinals.

Tennessee A&I State continued to dominate the NAIA tournament at Kansas City. Bidding for a record third straight championship, Tennessee A&I whipped Illinois Normal 131-74 in the quarterfinals Thursday night. In the other games, Southwest Texas State defeated Lenoir Rhyne 80-78; Fort Hays (Kan) State upset West Virginia Wesleyan 96-83; and Pacific Lutheran downed Georgia Teachers 97-65.

Woodling Helps To Beat Yankees 10-9

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Baltimore's Gene Woodling has picked up where he left off last season: Mauling New York Yankees pitching.

The 36-year-old Oriole outfielder hit .276 last season, but against the Yanks here Thursday Woodling made two hits in four trips and drove in two of Baltimore's runs as the Yanks won 10-9 in 11 innings.

"He hits us like he owns us," grumbled Yankee Manager Casey Stengel. "We can't have him hitting that way against us again this year."

Pacilio To Seek National Honors

Mike Pacilio, Gettysburg College's Middle Atlantic conference heavyweight wrestling champion, will compete in the national wrestling championships in Iowa City, Iowa, March 26, 27 and 28 in an attempt to become Gettysburg's first national champion.

The sophomore ace, who has been wrestling in the unlimited weight class, will wrestle in the 190-lb. class at the University of Iowa, the host school for this year's matches.

EXPLAINS WHY HE QUIT AS ILLINI COACH

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — What prompted Ray Eliot to quit as University of Illinois football coach with 17 seasons behind him? "A guy has to quit sometime," he said today.

"The last few years, I took a look at myself and said 'How far do you go coaching and how do you end,'" explained Eliot, dean of Big Ten football coaches.

Eliot, 52, a bespectacled, bald man who switches from serious discussion to a quip in a flash, Thursday resigned as coach, effective after the 1959 season, to become assistant Illini athletic director.

Opportunity Came "I said to myself," continued Eliot, "if an administrative position comes up, I'll take it. It did, in the form of assistant to Athletic Director Doug Mills, and I took it."

Eliot's Illini won two Big Ten titles, shared another, and had a 78-70-10 overall record since he succeeded the late Bob Zuppke as head coach in 1942.

"It sort of breaks your heart a little bit to leave the wonderful fellows I have met in the football world, particularly the coaches," said Eliot.

"Nevertheless, a guy has to quit sometime and I think I have done it without pressure. I wouldn't have liked the situation about coaches some schools get into."

MT. LEBANON WILL BATTLE YORK IN WATER

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Three record-breaking swimmers will back Mount Lebanon's effort to upset York as PIAA state swimming champion Saturday in the 1959 state finals.

William Hunt, Carl Warnes and Tom Lindsey set new Western PIAA records in the regional finals last week. The Mount Lebanon 200-yard medley relay team also set a new standard.

York, which won the eastern final last week, has a new record holder in Joel Shanabrough.

Shanabrough set a mark of 1:34.2 for the 150-yard individual medley as his team piled up 54½ points to best Lancaster and 13 other schools.

Quite A Contest It should be quite a contest between him and Lindsey, who set a western standard of 1:32.7 when Mount Lebanon won the western title.

Mount Lebanon's closest competitor was Erie Strong Vincent, 30½. Lancaster scored 37½ to finish second in the east. Lancaster's 200-yard freestyle relay team set an eastern standard of 1:38.2.

Hunt's record time was 24.3 seconds in the 50-yard freestyle. Warnes set a new 100-yard breaststroke mark of 1:08.8.

In all, 120 swimmers will compete in 10 events. They represent the 12 best times combined in the regional finals.

SUGAR RAY PONDERING MOORE FIGHT

By MURRAY ROSE Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson today pondered over an offer of a guaranteed million dollar gate for what may be his last fight—a battle of champions with Archie Moore in Yankee Stadium in September.

The bid was made by promoter Bill Rosenzohn in a conference said he plans to follow it up with it with a talk with Moore, the 42-year-old light heavyweight champion.

Offers Half Of $600,000 Rosenzohn, who has the Floyd Patterson - Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight set for Yankee Stadium in June, is aiming to sew up boxing's two greatest attractions for the big city.

The big bid means that Rosenzohn is offering at least $600,000 for Robinson, the 38-year-old middleweight champion, and Moore to divvy up. Rosenzohn said he had offered them 60 per cent of the million dollar gate plus the same percentage of the television and other receipts.

How would the 60 per cent be split?

"Down The Middle" "Down the middle of course," said Robinson, "30-30."

Moore has said that if he fights Robinson he would want "the champion's cut — 40 per cent. After all my title would be at stake, not his."

"That's the best offer we've gotten to date," said Sugar Ray. "This probably will be my last fight and I want to get as big a purse as I can. Archie also is in the twilight of his career and he wants a big one too for his next fight."

BUTLER CAGERS MAY BE TEAM TO BEAT IN NIT

NEW YORK (AP) — Is bold, ball-hawking Butler the "hot" team for the National Invitation Tournament — the annual Madison Square Garden basketball scramble that thrives on upsets?

They're asking that question today after the pin-point shooting, quick moves and all-around excellence the unheralded Bulldogs from Indianapolis showed Thursday night in the opening first round doubleheader of the 22nd annual tournament.

Many would say "yes" to the nimble club that pasted Fordham 94-80 before St. John's (NY) produced an expected 75-67 victory over Villanova.

Big Test Saturday The answer comes Saturday night, when Butler plays its quarterfinal match with top-seeded Bradley. If Tony Hinkle's Bulldogs can spill the big Braves from Peoria, Ill., there could be no stopping them.

Butler, with Ken Pennington and Johnny Jones the big men in a relatively bantam lineup at 6-4, broke away from a 64-all tie with a 24-9 spurt to nail the victory over Fordham, a four-point favorite.

The NIT takes a day off today, resuming with Providence vs. Manhattan and Denver vs. New York U. in the windup of the first round Saturday afternoon. St. John's plays third-seeded St. Bonaventure in the doubleheader matching Bradley and Butler Saturday night.

The two other seeded teams, St. Louis and Oklahoma City, get going Tuesday night with St. Louis meeting the Manhattan - Providence winner and the Denver-NYU victor facing Oklahoma City.

BAHAMA MEETS CHAMP TONIGHT

NEW YORK (AP) — Yama Bahama of Bimini in the Bahamas must win to be middleweight champion real bad.

Otherwise, how do you figure this out? Asked how his life was in Bimini, Yama replied:

"Real nice. Good pay as a fishing guide. Fine fishing. Climate never gets cold."

So where does Yama live now? In the Bronx, where the snow lies deep.

Bahama fights Wilfie Greaves, the Canadian middleweight champion from Edmonton and Detroit, in a 10-round television (NBC, 10 p.m., EST) fight at Madison Square Garden tonight. Greaves is a 7-5 favorite.

Even if he wins, Yama will be a long way from a title fight. Neither he nor Greaves is ranked among the top 10.

This is Yama's first fight since he lost to Rudell Stitch on Nov. 26. His record is 51-9-2, including 17 kayos.

Greaves lost his last fight by split decision to former middleweight champion Gene Fullmer Feb. 20. Greaves' record is 27-10-1, including 15 knockouts.

INTEGRATION IS UP TO STATES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration says it does not intend to intervene in school integration disputes with tactics like federal operation of general public schools or holding back federal funds.

Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming presented the administration views Thursday in testimony to a House Judiciary subcommittee.

Flemming argued that the Supreme Court's school decision left integration to be worked out by individual cases, with states and local agencies responsible for compliance.

"We are not going to give any money, I assure you, to these private schools being set up to get around court orders," Flemming said.

He backed the President's refusal to give a personal expression of agreement or disagreement with the Supreme Court's school decisions.

Blue Cross is the only hospitalization plan with a two-way contract—one with members and one with the hospitals in your community—to guarantee benefits in the form of hospital SERVICES... not a fixed "dollar allowance" that may fall short of your hospital bill.

For the patient whose doctor orders hospital care, Blue Cross "two-way" membership means no "red tape", no cash in advance, no credit references, no waiting for reimbursement; and most Blue Cross patients leave the hospital with little or nothing to pay... Happy Hawaiians Stage Big Statehood Celebration

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
HONOLULU (AP)—Happy Hawaiians cranked up a second round of celebrations today for their newly acquired statehood.

Disregarding Friday the 13th, they planned a five-hour show at Honolulu Stadium featuring Hollywood entertainers and 200 grass-skirted hula dancers.

It was a holiday again throughout the islands, just as it was Thursday when Congress voted long-awaited statehood for the territory.

50-Gun Salute
The day's program also called for a religious thanksgiving service in Honolulu and a big concert by the Royal Hawaiian Band, joined by the bands of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines.

Also on the program was a 50-gun salute to the 50th state fired by artillerymen from howitzers on Iolani Palace grounds.

Thursday's celebration began noisily within minutes after the House completed passage of the statehood bill.

Dancing And Fireworks
It exploded in a discordant din of sirens, church bells, ship's whistles and motorists' horns.

At night there were street dancing, bonfires and fireworks.

Military planes dropped flares at sea off Waikiki Beach, the island's best known resort spot.

At Waikiki, throngs jammed the streets to see dancing by Tahitian, Samoan and Hawaiian maidens.

Huge Bonfire
Light showers failed to dampen the festivities. Native Hawaiians, who regard rain as a blessing of the gods, took it as a good omen for the newest state.

Servicemen at liberty joined the thousands crowding the Waikiki area. One serviceman carried a cardboard sign from his neck reading "Maryland welcomes Hawaii" and another had a sign which read "Iowa votes yes."

The largest bonfire was a towering blaze on an island adjoining Honolulu harbor. Logs from many states and foreign countries had been collected for the blaze.

ACCELERATED COURSES MAY AID STUDENTS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Dr. Charles H. Boehm, public instruction superintendent, today predicted that a substantial number of bright high school students could benefit from stepped up courses.

The percentage of pupils participating in an accelerated program might be small at the beginning, Boehm said, but it could easily be more than 5 per cent within 10 years.

The superintendent said the program could entail a difficult problem since a student may be gifted in one subject and not gifted in another.

No Time Requirements
Some students already are ahead of others by the time they reach junior high school, Boehm said, especially in languages and science. He said an accelerated program would make it possible for the advanced student to increase his progress.

"You can't put them in with the other students," Boehm declared, "but no one in Pennsylvania is supporting any skipping."

He said the state already has eliminated time requirements so that students of superior ability can complete their work on earning the required credits.

Boehm said the emphasis of an accelerated program is "likely to be on the academically gifted although it is recognized there are gifted students in art, music and physical education."

The other groups, he said, receive additional training through extracurricular activities.

FORD MOTOR CO. TO SELL STOCK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two million shares of Ford Motor Co. stock will be offered for public sale at the end of this month by the Ford Foundation.

The offering of common class "A" stock, at today's price, will be worth more than 110 million dollars.

The foundation notified the Securities and Exchange Commission Thursday of the intended sale.

Plans outlining the sale said the offering price would depend on the price of Ford stock on the New York Stock Exchange just before the block of shares is released. Ford stock closed on the New York market Thursday at $55.37, up 62 cents on the day. This compares with the original offering price of $64.50 a share and a low of $35.87 in 1957.

The foundation is a nonprofit corporation organized for scientific, educational and charitable purposes. It owns 36,132,239 shares of Ford stock, acquired through gifts and bequests from Henry and Edsel Ford.

Schools' Checks Are In The Mail

HARRISBURG (AP)—Payments totaling $64,842,372 to fourth class school districts for 1957-58 expenses have been approved by the Public Instruction and auditor General's Depts.

Gov. Lawrence Thursday said the checks are in the mail after a delay caused by the general fund's depletion. The payments were made possible by a 35 million dollar loan from the Motor License Fund voted by the Legislature this week.

Payments to first, second and third class school districts were made in November. A second installment is due in April, Lawrence said.

PLCB Announces Savings On Taxes

HARRISBURG (AP)—Savings totaling $125,185 annually were claimed by the State Liquor Control Board today due to revisions in the federal Excise Tax Technical Changes Act of 1958.

The revisions, which take effect July 1, will allow substitution of one wholesale stamp for the entire state liquor store system in place of wholesale stamps for each of the 640 stores.

Retail stamps for each store, at a total cost of $34,815, will still be required, Board Chairman Patrick E. Kerwin said Thursday.

FUND RAISING PROJECTS, EGG HUNT PLANNED

Several fund raising projects were planned and arrangements were made to hold an Easter Egg Hunt for the children of members of the Junior Woman's Club of Littlestown at the monthly meeting of the club, after the community church services, on Wednesday evening in the social room of the local Eagles Home, W. King St.

It was decided to sell sandwiches to the workers in local industries on Thursday morning, April 23. The members will prepare the sandwiches with two standing committees working together as follows: Publicity and fine arts, cheer and finance, program and membership. Details on the sale will be announced later.

Preliminary plans were made to hold a food sale in May on a date and place to be arranged by the following committee: Mrs. Richard E. Barnes, Mrs. Bernard G. Kebil, Mrs. Wilbur J. Gobrecht, Mrs. Edward L. Warner and Mrs. Richard A. Little Jr.

Egg Hunt March 28

The Easter Egg Hunt for the younger children will take place on Saturday afternoon, March 28, at 2 p.m. in the rear of the local high school building on Maple Ave. In case of rain, the egg hunt will be held on the following Saturday, April 4. Mrs. Robert Morgret, Mrs. Edward Runk, Mrs. Laverne P. Louey and Mrs. Woodrow D. Crabbs comprise the committee. The club voted a donation to the Women's Medical College building program. This is the year's project of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs. It was announced that the annual spring banquet meeting of the Adams County Federation of Women's Clubs will be held on Wednesday, April 15, 6:30 p.m. at Schottie's Hotel, Littlestown. Reservations to attend should be made with the local club president, Mrs. Robert R. Reinaman.

It was decided not to sponsor a sample fair, as previously discussed and tentatively planned. The members signed a "better driving" petition, as sponsored by the National Federation. Mrs. Reinaman, who presided, and Mrs. Donald C. Feaser were appointed to represent the club on the Lions Club TV Party Time program on April 9. The president announced the appointment of the following nominating committee, Mrs. Woodrow Crabbs, Mrs. Wilbur Gobrecht, Mrs. Robert Morgret, Mrs. C. Moss Morehead Jr. and Mrs. Paul F. Boller Jr., to prepare a slate of new officers for presentation at the next meeting.

Mothers' Night In May
Mothers' Night will be observed by the club at a special dinner-program for members and their mothers as guests on Wednesday, May 13, in the social hall of Redeemer's United Church of Christ. A guest speaker will present an appropriate address for the occasion. Arrangements for the affair are in charge of the finance committee, composed of Mrs. Bernard G. Kebil, chairman, Mrs. William R. Keefer, Mrs. Paul Boller Jr., Mrs. Jay R. Crouse, Mrs. Richard Barnes, Mrs. R. Kenneth Boyd, Mrs. Edward Warner, Mrs. Allen Shanesbrook and Mrs. Robert Breighner. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Kebil.

Routine reports were heard from Mrs. Keefer, treasurer and Mrs. Crouse, secretary. Two new members were received: Mrs. John Jacobs, who was appointed to the fine arts committee, and Mrs. Robert Breighner, to the finance committee.

At the conclusion of the business, the program was in charge of the fine arts committee, Mrs. Robert Kress, chairman. There was group singing, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Richard Little Jr. Using "Music" as the program theme, the members divided into groups of five and six for contest singing. Refreshments were served. A coffee social preceded the business.

Assisting Mrs. Kress with the program were Mrs. Conrad C. Hull, Mrs. Glenn E. Crouse, Mrs. Moss Morehead Jr., Mrs. Clarence L. Schwartz Jr., Mrs. Gene R. Renner, Mrs. Russell Abbott and Mrs. John Jacobs.

The club will meet again on Wednesday, April 8, 8 p.m. at the FOF Home, when the anniversary of the organization of the club will be noted. The program is being arranged by the membership committee, comprising Mrs. Kent E. Daum, chairman, Mrs. Wilmer Dutterer, Mrs. Richard Geisler, Mrs. Earl A. Rebert, Mrs. Wilbur Gobrecht, Mrs. William Grove, Mrs. Robert B. Millheim and Mrs. Dale Moose.

Tough-built Chevy truck bulls its way deep into the woods for mammoth loads

This big Series 60 Chevy bulls its way as far as 8 miles into the Louisiana woods, fights over ruts and jagged stumps... then grinds back out with towering loads of logs! The Sabine Lumber Company attests to the truck's ability to take it: "Chevrolet makes the best truck for our type of operation."

Out where a truck is known for the beating it can take, Chevy's making friends fast. Truckers like the way these toughies hold up; the way they wade right in, take their lumps, yet stay in shape.

Today, it's grit that Chevy's showing the trucking industry. Real toughness that pays off in job-after-job dependability... in ability to get work done at least expense. You can match Chevy muscle against any tough light-, medium- or heavy-duty job and know you've got it beat!

Your Chevrolet dealer's ready right now to meet your special work requirements. Stop by and see him soon.

Model Trains In Boyhood Kindled Robie Interest In Electronics; Hi-Fi Center

A boyhood interest in electronics that started with model trains provided the background that led Charles Robie, proprietor of Robie's Hi-Fi Center, into the field of hi-fi and stereophones and into his business that has just entered its third year at 118 Baltimore St.

Now the proprietor of a store that has in stock 3,500 titles in long-playing records and all of the top 50 hits in the 45's, Mr. Robie was born at Union Springs in the Finger Lake section of New York. After high school he discovered his real interest in classical music and in his four years at Nyack Missionary College at Nyack, N. Y., he became interested in high fidelity sound and worked in the recording studios at the college.

There he helped install his first hi-fi sound system.

Jazz, Classical, Sacred

When he came to Gettysburg some four years ago, he worked for two years at the Adams County Electrical Appliance store and then went into business for himself at his present address when he discovered the opportunity to promote good music here and sell the sound media it requires.

Now this popular and attractive store in the second block of Baltimore St. is bulging with classical, jazz, popular and religious or sacred recordings—the biggest collection of long-play records in this area outside of the cities.

Seventy per cent of the national record stock is in "LP's" nowadays and that proportion is followed in the record supply at Robie's "Hi-Fi." The proprietor decided some months ago to drop the 45's but popular demand from the fans that like to buy the hit tunes in the top fifty forced him to restock the popular discs.

50 Record Labels

His record collection includes some 50 labels with some of these among the most popular: Columbia, Victor, Angel, Capitol, Audio Fidelity, Decca and Mercury.

Mr. Robie sells high fidelity sets and complete systems in stereophonic sound. Carrying the complete Motorola line, Robie also can put together and install high fidelity components into complete systems. He carries a complete stock of accessories and a repair department for hi-fi phonographs and radio.

The ultimate in sound quality, the complete stereophonic systems can be installed for $500 and up.

Put System In Museum

Installations recently completed by Robie include the sound system in Cliff Arquette's museum father out Baltimore St. and Mr. Robie is planning to expand into more of these commercial sound installations.

Earlier Robie installed the sound system for Dr. Frederick Shaffer's music classes in Glatfelter Hall on the Gettysburg College campus.

The components for high quality custom built sound systems include such quality as Dynakit, Marantz, Scott, Garrard and others.

The view above shows the attractive north dining room at the Lamp Post Corner, the Duncan Hines approved tea room at Carlisle St. and E. Stevens St. A popular spot for college campus dwellers and town folk, the Lamp Post Corner also attracts many tourists who pass by on Route 15. There is another dining room and a grill where tasty home-cooked food is served from a wide choice of dishes offered on the varied menu. (Times Photo)

Rib-Tickler At Majestic Wednesday

Hollywood comedy king, Leo McCarey, declares a national laugh holiday starting Wednesday at the Majestic Theater when his CinemaScope adaptation of Max Shulman's novel, "Rally 'Round the Flag, Boys!" will be unreeling for the first time. For more than a year a steady occupant of the nation's best-seller lists, this rib-tickling story has been written for the screen by Claude Binyon and Producer-Director McCarey, with leading roles played by stars Paul Newman, Academy Award winner Joanne Woodward, Joan Collins and Jack Carson.

Set in an average-sized American town, the Twentieth Century-Fox production traces the hilarious adventures of a public relations man (Newman), whose busy-body wife (Miss Woodward) leads a resentful town's crusade against the Army, which plans to use the community as its site for a top secret project. In the course of the story, mounted in lush De Luxe Color settings, the well-meaning husband almost loses his wife, because of another woman's (Miss Collins) flirtatious intentions toward him, and he alienates the entire U. S. Army, particularly the blundering captain (Carson) in charge of the project.

How this innocent by-stander resolves his dilemma, at one point to the extreme of re-activating his status in the Naval Reserve, has kept millions of readers in stitches and, with McCarey's experienced hand, should be echoed in the nation's movie theaters with the release of this film. McCarey purposely chose a cast featuring several performers with no previous comedy experience. Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward and Joan Collins thus make their comedy debut in "Rally 'Round the Flag, Boys!" and McCarey is evidently pleased with the result. He plans another fun-fest soon, teaming these same personalities. To add balance to his supporting cast, the film has such professional laugh-makers as co-star Jack Carson, and a supporting cast headed by Dwayne Hickman, Tuesday Weld, Gale Gordon, Tom Gilson and O. Z. Whitehead.

FLAT ROCK, N.C. (AP)—Poet Carl Sandburg, exhausted by travel, work and the pain of an ulcerated tooth, is taking a week's rest on doctor's orders.

His wife said Thursday that Sandburg, 81, biographer of Abraham Lincoln, has been on the move continuously since Lincoln's birthday anniversary Feb. 12.

LIONS' SHOW

ON APRIL 9

The twelfth annual entertainment sponsored by the Littlestown Lions Club will take place on Thursday, April 9, in the high school auditorium. The affair is for the benefit of the club's welfare and community betterment fund.

This will be the third year for "TV Party Time." Previously there was an amateur show. New shows this year will replace last year's selections and this year's program motto is "A Night Of Fun For Everyone," to evoke additional interest. Since their organization in 1939, the Lions have been a great influence for good in the community, sponsoring many worthwhile projects, purchasing glasses for those needy who cannot afford them, as well as food, fuel and clothing on many occasions; they are also co-sponsors of the Boy Scouts and of Little League baseball. This entertainment makes it possible to finance these projects.

Marvin "Babe" Breighner is general chairman of this year's St.

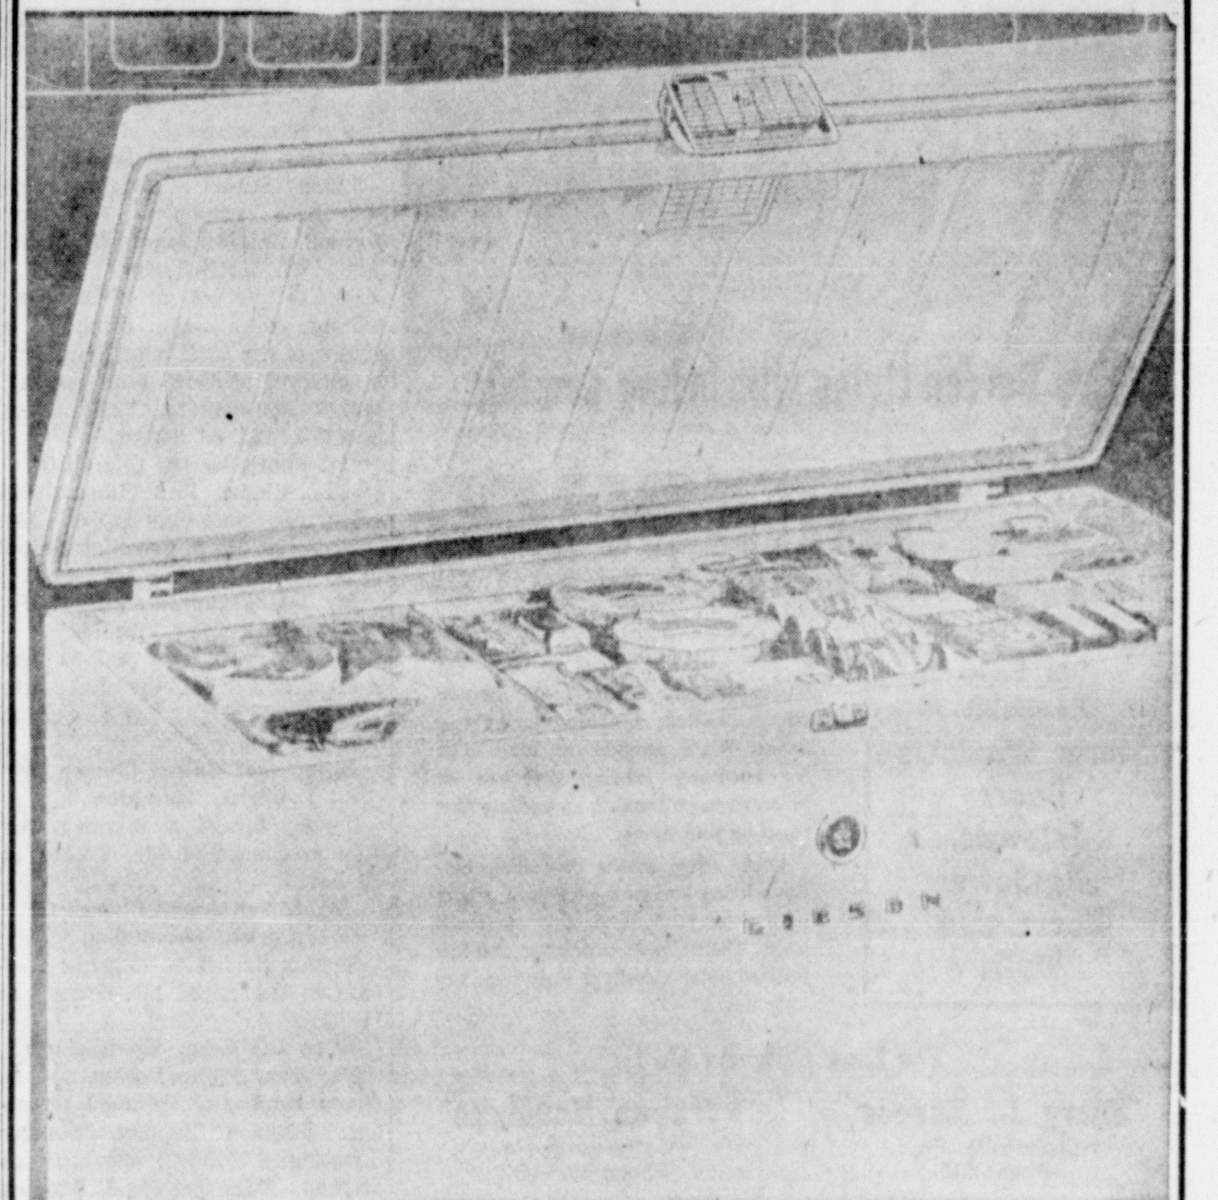

production. A meeting of the production committee will be held on Sunday afternoon, 2 o'clock at the home of Mr. Breighner, E. King St. The committee comprises R. J. Stonesifer, Chester S. Byers, the Rev. Glenn Flinchbaugh, the Rev. William R. Jones, Herbert J. Sell, Clayton L. Evans, P. Bernard Weaver and H. Dean Stover.

TV Party Time tickets will be distributed to club members at their meeting next Thursday, and will be for sale after that time. General admission is 50 cents, adults and 35 cents, children. Reserved seats are 75 cents each and the chart is on display at

The Day Christ Died

The author's detailed, hour-by-hour account of the most dramatic day in history started with 6 p.m. — the beginning of the Hebrew day. Jesus and His Disciples had come to Jerusalem for the Passover.

At the conclusion of the feast — the Last Supper — Jesus made it plain that He was aware that His betrayal was at hand. Earlier He had said to Judas, "That which you must do, do quickly," and had sent him from the room. Judas hastened to the house of Caiaphas and there, for thirty pieces of silver, arranged to betray his Master with a kiss. Caiaphas, who feared that Jesus and His teachings threatened the power of the priests and the temple, was delighted. It was his design that Jesus be tried and convicted by the Sanhedrin — the supreme court of the Jews — as a false prophet, the death sentence to be passed on by the Roman procurator.

Meanwhile, Jesus and His followers leave the dining hall and walk out into the quiet night. They make their way to the Garden of Gethsemane. There Judas, leading a band of Roman soldiers and temple guards, accomplishes his betrayal. Jesus is taken before a hastily summoned meeting of the Sanhedrin, who pass a preliminary death sentence and turn Him over to the guards. At their sadistic hands He is mocked and beaten. When next the Sanhedrin see Him, He is almost unrecognizable.

Now continue Mr. Bishop's vivid narration in the thirteenth hour:

6 A.M.

April 7, A.D. 30

6 A.M., APRIL 7, A.D. 30

A SMALL knot of people stood outside the house of Caiaphas in the early dawn. Among them was Judas Iscariot.

Although he had been paid for his work, Judas could not leave the scene. Frightened and fascinated, he waited until they brought Jesus out. Judas looked and was sickened by what he saw. He was shocked and a wave of contrition engulfed him. He did not believe that Jesus was the Messiah but he knew of his own experience that this was the gentlest Man in the world.

Push, Kick Jesus

The party assed him, and Judas watched the guards push Jesus and kick Him when He stumbled. His shame turned into horror and he told himself, over and over, that he had not meant this to happen! Perhaps Jesus deserved punishment: perhaps banishment to Galilee or further. But not this.

Judas grew frantic. He had to find out what would happen. He hurried after the small group, throwing his cloak over the lower part of his face to keep from being recognized.

Judas, following the maimed Man he had betrayed, trailed alone behind the group to the Xystus, which bridged the upper city to the temple area, and then on to the Hulda Gates. He mingled with the worshippers and got inside without attracting attention. He was now in a panic. If only he could have grabbed Jesus by the arm, and fled . . . ! If he could go back to Caiaphas and talk . . . !

The terrible feeling that had replaced the tickle in his stomach was not due to his faith in Jesus, not even to his friendship for Jesus because a traitor has no capacity for friendship. What troubled Judas was the recollection of the sweetness and goodness of this Man, even to those who hurt Him most. Now—too late—Judas could not bear to see Jesus hurt.

A Stone Room

There was a stone room in the southwestern corner of the temple, adjoining the place where the largest court flared out toward the Pool of Siloe. Here the Great Sanhedrin met. The walls inside were of grained black and white marble and there were the three rows of semicircular chairs which faced three similar rows against the opposite wall.

Jesus was led inside and held, standing between the facing rows. Two hundred feet away His Father was being worshipped unceasingly. One hundred feet away many of the Jews who believed in Him walked on the royal porch in the morning sunshine, and some asked others whether Jesus the Christ would come to the temple on this bright day to teach and to heal.

The Man standing in the chamber of the great Sanhedrin touched His tongue to His dry bloody lips and hoped for water. To ask for it would be foolish, for this would give the guards another way to taunt Him. So He remained quiet and prayed to His Father for additional strength.

Brief Temple Trial

The temple trial was brief. After reading the prisoner's offense and the judgment already rendered by the Sanhedrin, Caiaphas remarked with someunction that, while it would be fitting to deliberate for another day as prescribed in the law, one could not deliberate on the Sabbath, which would be upon them in a matter of hours. But, if the law says that he who lives by the sword shall die by the sword, what finer sense of justice than to kill the blasphemer just before the setting sun ushered in a particularly holy Sabbath?

"He has spoken giddupha (blasphemy)!" Caiaphas shouted. The clerks then began to call the roll, starting with the youngest members. Each in turn stood and said: "He is guilty! Death!" When the roll was completed without a dissenting vote, the clerk wrote the prisoner's name, the charge, the finding of guilt, and the sentence. This, along with the prisoner, would have to be taken to the Roman procurator for confirmation of sentence.

Two Seats Empty

Two seats in the Great Sanhedrin were empty: that of Nicodemus and that of Joseph of Arimathea, friends of the accused. The total number of men who held the life of Jesus in their hands, excluding Caiaphas, who as presiding officer had no vote, was no greater than sixty-eight, two for each year of His life.

The high priest left his post and walked toward the rear of the room. There he removed the golden band of his office from his miter. On it in Hebrew were the characters: "Holiness unto Yahweh," and it was an ancient legend that, when the final day of atonement came, God would read these words on the golden band and, pleased, would forgive all blasphemers.

The bonds of the prisoner had been loosed throughout the brief hearing and He stood chafing His wrists and holding His stomach. In the back of the Boule (council), Caiaphas sat in whispered consultation with some of the Scribes. The next move was to take Jesus to the Roman procurator, Pontius Pilate, and in all the long, hard road of the apprehension, trial and conviction of this criminal, there was nothing that Caiaphas feared more.

Fear Freeing Jesus

A man of restraint could bear with Pilate's ironies, his sarcasms, his spurious puzzlement regarding Hebrew law, his disclaimers, his faintly veiled scorn of all Jews. But if he denied that the crime was of sufficient gravity to warrant death, then all the pleas of logic and justice would avail Caiaphas nothing. Jesus would be free and He would be a greater voice among the people than ever before. One might as well close the temple.

A Scribe sitting with Caiaphas said that he had been present a few days ago when Jesus had examined a Roman coin and had said that it was just to render to Caesar the things that were Caesar's. Couldn't this statement perhaps be turned against the Galilean? Caiaphas and the priests discussed it at length.

What Jesus actually had said could not but please Pilate, because the little speech favored just taxation and coin in kind. But if the statement could be twisted a little—to a point, say, where they might tell the procurator that this Man had counseled the populace against Caesar—that would be inciting to rebellion under Roman law, and Pilate, no matter what his knowledge of the truth, would not dare to free the Man Jesus.

Freedom In Jeopardy

If word got back to the legate

in Syria, or to Tiberius in Rome, that Pilate had dared to set free one who had taught the downfall of Caesar, then Pilate's own freedom would be in jeopardy.

Only two years ago Caiaphas had had to combat Pilate in a test of strength precipitated by the procurator. Pilate had been told that the Roman soldiers could not carry votive shields, which bore the image of Caesar, into Jerusalem. The Jews, he was informed, would riot.

So Pilate had hundreds of the shields set up on the wall of Fortress Antonia, which faced the temple grounds. The people rioted. Caiaphas and Annas conferred and protested directly to Tiberius. The Roman Emperor sent orders to Pilate to remove the shields at once and to secure them in the temple of Augustus at Caesarea. The procurator had been beaten by the Hebrews.

Test Of Strength

The high priest felt that Pilate would make the case of Jesus another test of strength. Not that Pilate cared for the prisoner, who was just another inconsequential subject. The life or death of Jesus was without meaning to the procurator.

The worry of Caiaphas was that, in spite of the fact that he had inveigled the Roman into participating in the arrest of Jesus, Pilate would do anything he could to embarrass Caiaphas and his father-in-law, no matter what the legalities might be.

And so the high priest weighed the merits of the new suggestion and tried to imagine the mood in which he would find the procurator. Only yesterday, the Great Sanhedrin had condemned two criminals, and both Jews were now lying in the Fortress Antonia dungeon awaiting crucifixion. Pontius Pilate had not hesitated to confirm their death sentence.

Maybe he would not hesitate this morning. It was possible that Caiaphas and his little coterie of Sadducees were needlessly worried. They were clever men, and they knew that their best chance of success lay in minimizing Jesus as a religious factor. They had to make Him appear a small, cheap religious fraud from Galilee.

Split Palestine

If Pilate guessed that this Man had a huge following then all was lost, because the procurator would begin at once to play one set of Jews against another. If he could split Palestine he would soon have the people at each other's throats, and this, from the standpoint of an oppressor, would be ideal.

But it worried Caiaphas to think that any split on the question of Jesus' guilt would pit the people against the temple. In such a fight, more and more people would turn to espouse the fakes because He could perform works of wonder and the priests could not. In time, the holy temple would be like the pyramids of Egypt—a huge tomb.

One of the elders suggested that it would help if they brought along a crowd to shout against Jesus in the presence of Pilate. The little knot of men marveled at the simplicity of this weapon. Whom would they get? They would requisition the services of the temple guards and the "police" force.

Take Temple Employees

Those who earned their living at the temple should work for its preservation. It did not matter what they believed, or even whether or not they were influenced by that wild story of Lazarus being raised from the dead—they would do as they were told.

So it was decided to take along a large number of temple employees, and to have them shepherded by several priests. On the march through town to the Antonia these people would press closely around the prisoner so that His Disciples in Jerusalem could not get close to Him, or even properly see who the prisoner was. Then, at Antonia, the employees would take their cues from the priests, who would lead the shouting from the double arches of the fortress.

Caiaphas felt better. He ordered the prisoner to be made ready for a journey as soon as the priests and employees could be drawn from the temple.

Jesus waited, standing.

30,000 On Grounds

Outside the room the priests on the Royal Porch issued orders. Guards and messengers listened to their words and then ran off through the throng of worshippers, who wondered at this unseemly conduct in the house of the Lord. It was a bright, crisp morning now, and already there were about 30,000 people on the temple grounds.

The number would be greater toward mid-day when the late caravans from the diaspora arrived. People jammed all the gates and the stairways leading up and down to the various courts; sometimes fathers, caught in the squeezing tide, had to lift their growing sons and carry them until they could be safely set down again.

Judas, standing on the edge of the portico, saw Caiaphas' messengers running through the crowd. He was afraid to ask what the supreme council had decided. He was afraid not to. The messengers ran off, and in minutes they were back. The priests whispered among themselves and rudely brushed aside the questions of passing pilgrims. Judas stood against the railing, the side of his molasses-colored face catching the morning sun.

Judas Was Worried

Several times he started off to ask outright what had happened inside, but each time he sensed that he would be putting himself in danger. They might accuse him of trying to deliver Jesus to freedom, and only Caiaphas and a few others knew that, but for Judas, the high senate would not have Jesus in custody right now.

The betrayer grew older as he stood there. The sun mercilessly sought the ever-deepening hollows in his cheeks, the leathery pouches under his eyes. He had to ask. He had to know. He wished that he had remained at home in Kerioth, where life was uncomplicated. He wished that he had not volunteered to strike a blow for Yahweh, for his brain had been beset by worry every since and there would be no end to it.

"Committed No Crime"

He would have to make the priests understand somehow that they were mistaken. Jesus had committed no crime. He had done no wrong. He was as innocent of evil as the lamb they had sacrificed at dawn. If he could make this known to Caiaphas, Judas was sure that everything would be all right, because Caiaphas was a just man, a lawgiver. He became increasingly nervous. The skin of his body felt uncomfortable.

People began to notice the wildness in his eyes, and his hands tugging at his chest and thighs and the back of his neck. Some paused to look at him and smile. He stared back at them. Then he looked at his hands and saw they were soiled. Fiercely, he thrust them inside his garment. They touched the old leather apron where he kept money.

Judas stared sullenly at the faces around him. Some of them resembled Jesus in features or bearing. He feared that he was losing his mind.

The little man pressed his fingers against his temples and ran through the crowd. He almost collided with a messenger, and paused, breathlessly, to ask what the supreme council had decided. The messenger said he had no time for questions. Judas begged.

He said he must know what had happened to the Prophet from Galilee.

"Oh, that one," said the messenger. "He will be lifted on a tree this morning."

When Judas realizes what he has done to Jesus his panic turns to horror. Why does he return to the temple priests? What is his great decision? For the answers to these questions follow Mr. Bishop's dramatic account of the betrayer's actions in Saturday's installment of "The Day Christ Died."

SHOWDOWN ON TAX PROGRAM LOOMS TODAY

HARRISBURG (AP)—A possible showdown between Gov. Lawrence and rebellious House Democrats loomed today over Pennsylvania's tax dilemma.

Lawrence made it clear he intends to push for adoption of his tax program developed entirely from recommendations of a bipartisan committee composed of business, labor and government leaders.

"I intend to do everything I can to seek passage of those recommendations by both houses of the General Assembly as promptly as possible," the governor said Thursday.

Calls For Increase
The program calls for increasing the state sales tax from 3 to 3½ per cent and expanding its coverage to include automobile and appliance trade-ins and alcoholic beverages sold in bars and restaurants.

The committee estimated this would produce 264 of the additional 400 million dollars Lawrence's budget drafters said are needed to balance a record $1,907,000,000 1959-61 fiscal outlay.

The administration's 12-bill tax package has been stalled in the Democratic-controlled House since last week. It was soundly criticized by some Democrats at a closed caucus on Tuesday.

Lawrence's pledge to seek passage of the program as "the best one for the state" focused attention on another caucus scheduled when the Legislature returns on Monday.

His statement came amid rumblings from labor leaders and several members of the advisory committee over talk of a possible compromise proposed during Tuesday's caucus. It involved agreement on a 4 per cent sales tax and exempting trade-ins.

Rep. Stephen McCann, House Democratic floor leader, backed tracked on an earlier statement Thursday that he had enough votes to win House approval of the 4 per cent levy.

No Compromise
"I can't determine if we have the votes until the House Democrats caucus next Monday and we can see," said McCann after he heard a denunciation of the compromise by Thomas Kennedy, United Mine Workers vice president. Kennedy was co-chairman of the

Fines Witnesses To One-man Dice Game

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—One by one, five of the six men accused of shooting dice proclaimed their innocence Thursday before City Court Judge Beverly Boushe.

When it came George Drake's turn he hesitated and mumbled: "Well, I guess I'm the only one who was shooting."

Said the judge: "Drake, you can go. I'm fining everybody else $11 for witnessing the first one-man dice game in history."

The Tax Advisory Committee.

At Philadelphia Thursday, Lawrence said the tax recommendations were "the best program for the state and I will not make any compromise on it." He said his statements concerning a compromise during a Wednesday news conference were misinterpreted in published reports.

However, an official transcript of questions and answers at the news conference showed that Lawrence flatly stated he would compromise. At one point the transcript showed Lawrence replying to a newsman's question: "I'm willing to compromise on anything that would be agreeable."

Asked Thursday if he would ask the tax committee to develop a substitute proposal should the Legislature refuse to accept the package as is, Lawrence asserted, "The answer is no, no, no."

He said the program was developed by men of industry and labor, who are members of opposing political parties and who have different philosophic views. "They believe like I do, that this is the best thing for Pennsylvania."

Lawrence met privately with two members of the advisory committee—Clifford F. Hood, president of the U.S. Steel Corp., and James M. Symes, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Afterward, he said: "We are for the tax package as it was presented, with no changes."

NAT KING COLE GIVES OPINIONS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Good songs are still being written in this rock 'n' roll era, but the public rarely gets to hear them.

So says Nat King Cole, who has been riding high in the popular music world for 20 years.

"It doesn't take talent any more to become popular," the singer told a news conference Thursday. "It takes connections and push."

"They don't build performers like they did in my day. (Cole will be 40 Tuesday.)

"The young kids (popular with the rock 'n' roll set) don't owe their thanks to the public. They owe them to the jukebox operators."

Cole observed: "The kids are controlling the radio today. But they don't buy as many records as they think they buy. Album sales are 75 per cent of the record business. The young adults buy the albums, not the kids."

GOOD DEAL TO SEE ON TV IN NEXT 7 DAYS

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP) — Although there's not a great deal in the way of "special" entertainment on the three major television networks in the coming week, there's still a good deal to see by twisting the dial (all times Eastern Standard):

To Check On Clark
Speaking of popularity, I'm going to take a look at the Dick Clark Show on ABC Saturday at 7:30—just to see why this department is flooded with more requests for tickets to the show than possibly can be obtained.

Sunday at 2:30 on NBC there will be a play-off in the eastern division of the National Basketball Assn. between the New York Knickerbockers and the Syracuse Nationals.

At 5 on Sunday "Omnibus" presents George M. Cohan's musical comedy, "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway" over NBC. Tammy Grimes and Larry Blyden are starred.

90 Minutes Of Allen
In a move apparently calculated to try to dig into the "Maverick" audience on ABC, the Steve Allen Show moves back to 7:30 on NBC Sunday and is expanded to 90 minutes this Sunday and again on March 22. Allen's guests include Charlton Heston, Debra Paget, Peter Lawford, Jonathan Winters, Jayne Meadows.

At 8 on CBS the Ed Sullivan Show celebrates St. Patrick's day with guests live from New York and a special film sequence filmed in Ireland.

Singer Frances Langford presents a special hour show on NBC Sunday at 10. Appearing with her will be Hugh O'Brian, Julie London, Edgar Bergen, George Sanders, Jerry Colonna and Bob Hope.

Benny On Wednesday
At 10 on Monday over CBS "Desilu Playhouse" presents

Ventriloquist Senor Wences, the Marquis London, Edgar Bergen, George Sanders, Jerry Colonna and Bob Hope.

WOMAN HAS BLIND SPOT FOR HERSELF

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
Heaven help the American family if women shopped for food as carelessly as they do for clothes, says Edith Head, Hollywood's most famous designer and author of a just-published autobiography, "The Dress Doctor."

"Most women are perceptive about their homes, their furniture, their children and their meals," says the small, dynamic Edith, who has dressed most of the famous movie stars from Clara Bow to Sophia Loren. "But the average woman has a blind spot when she looks at herself."

Design In Other Clothes
Miss Head, a former French teacher in California schools, is fashion chief for Paramount Pictures, a post which she has held through a generation of movie glamor girls. She lives in Beverly Hills with her husband, Ward Ihnen; designs all her own clothes as well as those of the stars.

"Fashion can be whimsy," says she, "but dressing well doesn't just happen. Dress designing is not cute, but clinical and strictly scientific. I make up my clothing prescriptions as seriously as any doctor. And believe me, some of my 'patients' need them."

There's no excuse for a woman being badly dressed today, says Edith. She feels strongly about the general appearance of the American woman in the supermarket. "So many women seem to feel that they're invisible when they go shopping, so they turn up at the market wearing everything from tattered pants to house dresses, with their hair in pin-curls and any old shoes at hand," she says.

87 IN L. A.
LOS ANGELES (AP)—A summer-like heat wave sent the temperature up to 87 degrees in Los Angeles Thursday—hottest day of the year. What's more, there wasn't any smog. It was even hotter in other Southern California cities. Long Beach topped the list with 90, hotter even than the desert resort of Palm Springs, where it was 87.

HONOLULU (AP) — Don't abbreviate Hawaii, says Postmaster George T. Hara. Post office regulations say the fledgling state's name should be spelled out.

St. Joseph's Catholic. The Rev. Stephen D. Melycher, pastor. Masses at 8 and 10:30 a.m.; confessions before masses and novena prayers following masses. Wednesday, Stations of the Cross, novena prayers and benedictions at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. Saturday, confessions at 4 and 7 p.m.

Nudism Bill Is Missouri Problem

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) —Speaker Richard H. Ichord is trying to decide which Missouri House committee should hear a bill which would outlaw nudism. "The Appropriations Committee thinks it should get the bill because it deals in figures," Ichord said Thursday. He said he would send it to a mental health committee, but the House doesn't have one.

Taverns Here Are Open Extra Hour

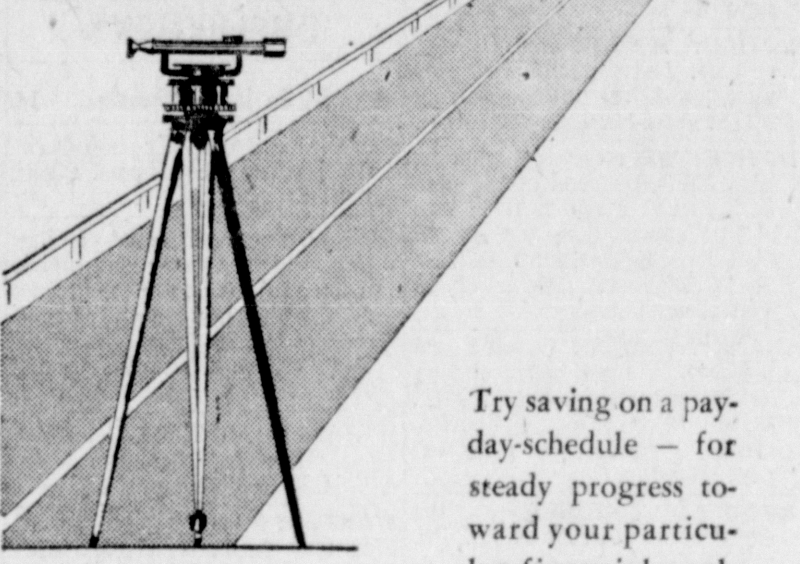

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Local taverns close at midnight now that Central Standard Time is in effect.

The midnight closing was waived during the summer and meant 1 a.m. during Daylight Saving Time.

Champaign, Urbana, Champaign County and Rantoul all passed resolutions stating that taverns would stay open an extra hour when the rest of the county went on DST.

Gerry Jones, who rowed with last year's Harvard freshman crew and is a promising candidate for the varsity, comes from the non-rowing state of Texas. His father owns a ranch.
